Please phone all news items, society or otherwise, to the Tidings, No. 39. It is often necessary to leave late items over until the next issue, so as to insure insertion please phone them in as early as possible. The Tidings goes to press early each Monday and Thursday afternoon and items must be in and in type by noon if possible.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Will Dodge, 614 Boulevard, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Louis Howard and Edward Forgey, both of this city, were married at the home of the bride Sunday evening last, Rev. J. A. Lemery tying the knot.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of F. S. McWilliams, a nephew of F. G. McWilliams, and Miss Marion Conlon, which took place at Spokane recently.

The Thimble Club was entertained by Mrs. H. O. Frohbach last Saturday afternoon. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed, ice cream and cake being the refreshments.

Mrs. L. S. Brown will conduct the story-telling afternoon at the library Saturday. She will tell true stories from real life to the little folks. The session last Saturday afternoon was conducted by Mrs. C. F. Tilton and was well attended and heartily enjoyed.

Mr. W. F. Caldwell of the Western Union gave a delightful evening to his friends Wednesday when he entertained at his home, at 79 Baum street, which he has rented for the summer. The early evening was spent at 500, and after a delightful lunch dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Mrs. F. E. Conway gave a very pretty informal Five Hundred party at her home on Wimer street last Thursday afternoon. Two tables were played Miss Dorris Bagley winning the highest score and receiving a very pretty box of stationery. The hostess served rainbow ambrosia and wafers to the following guests: Mesdames P. S. Provost, F. Roy Davis, A. W. Boslough, C. B. Wolf, M. E. Briggs, Roy Walker, Barneburg and Miss Dorris Bagley.

Miss Floy McNeil entertained the Mapaphe Club in a most charming manner at her home on Oak street Monday evening. Story-telling—not fibbing—was the order of the evening. A cherry feed was the form of refreshments. Cherry punch, sandwiches, cherry salad, cherry pie and chocolate were the principal items on the menu. The young ladies present were Misses Elsie Reames, Angeline Neil, Edna Neil, Frances Hamlin, Ruby Palmer, Pearl Johnson, Ethel Davenport, Elsie Harris and Miss McNeil.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club held a most profitable meeting yesterday with Mrs. August Schuerman, the assisting hostesses being Mrs. L. J. Orres and Mrs. N. G. Bates, with Miss Stella Owens presiding at the punch bowl. In order to secure funds for the purpose of redecorating the interior of the church the members decided to hold a market day soon, the time and place being announced later. The club also expects to have a picnic in the near future. This meeting being the last of the season, many members were present, as were several out-of-town visitors sojourning here for a holiday.

Washington City Herald: Opening the White House grounds for the Marine Band concert Saturday forenoon has caused much favorable comment. The band had not given a popular concert in the grounds in four years, the Saturday afternoon concerts taking place on the Ellipse south of the White House grounds. Max Pracht, who calls himself an "Oregon Republican," said last night in commenting on the change: "For the first time in four years the common people were privileged to hear the Marine Band within the White House grounds. For which our thanks are due to the kind-hearted mistress of the Executive Mansion, the wife of President Wilson."

Last Wednesday night Misses Nellie Briggs and Hope Burdick gave a novel entertainment at the Briggs home on Almond street in honor of Miss Sadie Miller of Flora, Illinois. The guests assembled at five o'clock and, donning big aprons, repaired to the kitchen and each one prepared a portion of the elaborate supper which followed. The guests were Misses Sadie Miller, Dorris Bagley and Frances Hamlin, and Miss Lenhart, with her fortune telling ability, furnished a great deal of amusement. Late in the evening it began to rain and the hostesses decided to make a slumber party of it and keep their guests all night. It was surely a case of "We Won't Go Home Till Morning" and the jolly party broke up after an excellent breakfast to meet again the next evening and enjoy a "walk around," taking in the picture shows and Crownson's. Miss Marion Huntley was also a member of the party on this occasion.

Mrs. J. H. Kennedy entertained in honor of her daughter, Vera, Monday afternoon of this week at an elaborate party at which there were about thirty children present and fourteen of the older people. Autos called for the guests and took them to the Kennedy home on Beach street and the children spent the afternoon with all sorts of games while their elders enjoyed some splendid music. Each child was presented with a toy of some kind as a memento of the day. Miss Bessie Hurst was in charge of the children's entertainment and proved herself an expert in the art of games and stunts. Vera Kennedy sang three songs by request, one of them in the Hawaiian language, in which country they lived for several years. Mrs. P. S. Provost sang "The Rosary," Mrs. C. B. Wolf "The Lost Chord," Mrs. F. E. Conway "Then You'll Remember Me" and Miss Dorris Bagley "Ave Maria." These four ladies are some of Ashland's finest vocalists and when they are all on one program it is bound to be excellent. Ice cream, strawberries, cake and candy were served and the ladies enjoyed some excellent fruit punch. Mrs. Kennedy and the children expect to leave soon to reside in California and this occasion was in the form of a farewell party. The children present were Gretchen Myers, Dorothy Hoag, Catherine Hoag, Margaret Calef, Rachel Hurst, Jeanette Wilson, Lolita Pierson, Gertrude and Alice Brown, Vernie Neville, Cecilia and Vera Kennedy, Marjorie and Jeanne Wolf, James McAllister, Albert Myers, Delvin Hunter, Clare McKee, Myrtle Butterfield, Merritte Conway, Ira, Elvin and Lee Neville, John, Vincent and Alphonsus Kennedy, Laurence Davis, Hal Wolf and George Stannard. The older people present were Mesdames J. B. Ware, F. E. Conway, P. S. Provost, C. B. Wolf, O. J. Rathbun, G. C. McAllister, H. J. Neville, A. L. Davis, Misses Bessie Hurst and Dorris Bagley, Messrs. McEnerney and Burdick and Rev. Father Moisant.

The residents on First Avenue have enjoyed a number of celebrations of various sorts the past week. Mrs. B. F. Mix and daughter Bernita and son Earl left Monday for Sacramento to join Mr. Mix, who is in business in that city, and Mrs. J. W. Loshier will leave soon for Portland to make her home there. The friends and neighbors of these two families entertained for them on several different evenings. On Monday evening they started with a fancy dress party at the Loshier home at which there appeared Indian maids, a black faced Aunt Dinah, an English duke, an Uncle Tom, a Buster Brown and his sister, Mary Jane, and many others. They were each requested to do a stunt of some kind and those who know say the result would rival the Shriners. Frank Jordan with his violin furnished some good music and an old fashioned Virginia reel was indulged in. Refreshments were served at midnight and the jolly party broke up to again resume the civilized garb of every day. Those present on this occasion besides the guests of honor were Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Jordan and Charles Harris, Mesdames Coffey, J. R. Casey, C. H. Hargadine, S. Miller and E. H. Bush, Misses Georgia Coffee, Lydia McCall, Beatrice Miller and Lena Casey, and Mr. Harry Casey. Wednesday evening at six o'clock Mrs. Frank Jordan entertained at dinner, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Loshier, Mrs. F. B. Mix and daughter and son and Mrs. S. Miller. In the evening the Ladies of the Maccabees gave a reception in honor of the same ladies, at which a large number were present and a very pleasant evening spent. Mrs. Loshier was unable to attend because of a surprise party the ladies of the Baptist church gave for her that evening. They came down on her at her home and spent the evening and presented her with a beautiful cut glass bowl as a token of appreciation for her splendid work in their church. On Thursday Mrs. S. Miller ended the festivities with a six o'clock dinner at her home on Hargadine street, her guests being the same who met the night before at the home of Mrs. Jordan.

Mrs. W. W. Caldwell entertained the U-Go-I-Go Club at her beautiful home on the Seaside Drive last Thursday afternoon. The members present were Mrs. Calif, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. George McAllister, Mrs. J. D. Hoag and Mrs. G. W. Milam. The guests outside the club were Mrs. J. B. Ware, Mrs. J. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Kaldue, the latter being guests of Mrs. Caldwell. Ice cream and cake were the refreshments.

The Ladies' Chautauqua Park Club will meet at the club house tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Chautauqua Building, July 1, "The Doll Shop."

Anxiously the old shopkeeper is waiting to show off his wonderful dolls. When wound up, off they go, singing and dancing in doll-like fashion. John Enders is the clever old shopkeeper, while Fred Schuerman is the workman, and indeed both are proud of the dolls. Those representing dolls are the Misses Winter, Barrett, Taverner, Merrill, Hamlin, Drake, Andrew McGee and Fred Schuerman. Alta Farmer is the dainty fairy who, imprisoned in a clock, flies forth and puts the old shopkeeper under her wonderful spell and he has a wonderful dream, the dollies all come to life and hold high carnival in the old shop, during which many novelties in songs and dances are introduced. A few are: "Dance Senora," Beatrice Miller; duet and song, "Kiss, Kiss, Kiss," Helen Scott and Billy Briggs. There will be Irish songs and jigs, Dolly Vardens, Chinese song and dance, Oriental dance, and many others. The ladies of the Civic Improvement Club are working hard selling tickets and all come to "The Doll Shop." One night only, Tuesday, July 1. Tickets may be procured either at Rose Bros. or Poley's. Remember the date—July 1.
